
GARY HILL

Title: HanD HearD

Date: 1995-96

Media: Five-channel video installation, silent

Video Link :

Description:

Five video projectors, five media players and five video files (color; silent)

Dimensions variable; projections approx. 9 h. x 12 w. ft. (2.7 x 3.7 m.) each

Edition of two and one artist's proof

Note: A unique seven-channel version of this work was commissioned by the Science Museum in London in 2001.

Five wall-sized color video images are projected at or near the corners of a given space. Each projects a fixed camera angle between a profile and over-the-shoulder view of a person gazing intently at one of his or her hands; aside from slight passive but vibrant "living" movement, the individuals do nothing but gaze. Every once in a while a figure's head turns a few degrees as if to acknowledge the viewer. The title contains the letters "an ear," suggesting a space of listening, and yet the work is actively silent.
